DIRECTOR’S MESSAGE

Recently our acquisitions editor, Michael Luski, and I were discussing some manuscripts under consideration. During our conversation, we praised the thorough work done by a particular editor on a collection. This led Michael to say, “We don’t publish books, we publish people.” I agree.

Each book we publish is the result of serious and often lengthy research and writing activity. The authors and their books featured in our catalogues are all important to us, and we enjoy working closely with these creators to produce the best books possible.

Just as there are often many people whom authors recognize and thank in their acknowledgements, the team that makes up the University of Alberta Press deserves special acknowledgement and thanks for the work that they cheerfully and expertly do. Let me introduce them to you.

Alan Brownoff, design/production.

Tony Buchanan, shipper.

Erin Cook, communications/marketing assistant.

Cathie Crooks, sales/marketing manager.

Jason Flammia, editorial assistant.

Michael Luski, acquisitions editor.

Peter Midgley, managing editor.

Yoko Sekiya, operations.

Regrettably, editor Mary Mahoney-Robson has been away on extended leave for some time. We wish her all the best.

If you are a UAP author reviewing this catalogue to see your book announcement, or perhaps an aspiring author checking to find out what kinds of books UAP publishes, I hope you will take the time to get to know us better. We look forward to getting to know you and working with you on your book. If you are a customer looking for a particular book, we welcome your inquiries.

We are assisted in our work in Canada through the sales efforts of Kate Walker & Company and Georgetown Terminal Warehouses. In the United States we are ably represented by Michigan State University Press, in the UK, Europe and South Africa by Gazelle Drake Academic, and in Australia and New Zealand by Inbooks.

Thank you for taking the time to read through this catalogue. We hope you like what you see.

Sincerely

Linda D. Cameron

When you cross an Oxford graduate with a young man seeking gold and adventure in the remote wilderness, the result is Nahanni Journals. Through these fascinating daily diaries by Raymond Patterson, a Londoner who finds his destiny in the Nahanni and Flat Rivers region of the Northwest Territories, Richard C. Davis reveals to us an extraordinary life. Patterson’s adventures are as swift and unpredictable as the river he canoes. Outdoor enthusiasts, historians, lovers of travel, and anyone interested in captivating stories will enjoy accompanying Patterson for the ride.

Culturing Wilderness in Jasper National Park

Studies in Two Centuries of Human History in the Upper Athabasca River Watershed

I.S. MacLaren, Editor

Adults need playgrounds. In 1907, the Canadian government designated a vast section of the Rocky Mountains as Jasper Forest Park. Tourists now play where Native peoples once lived, fur traders toiled, and Métis families homesteaded. In Culturing Wilderness in Jasper National Park, I.S. MacLaren and eight other writers unearth the largely unrecorded past of the upper Athabasca River watershed, and bring to light two centuries worth of human history, tracing the evolution of trading routes into the Rockies’ largest park. Serious history enthusiasts and those with an interest in Canada’s national parks will find a sense of connection in this long-overdue study of Jasper.

I.S. MacLaren teaches in the Department of History and Classics and the Department of English and Film Studies at the University of Alberta.

The Alberta Supreme Court at 100

History and Authority

Jonathan Swainger, Editor

This volume marks the 2007 centenary of the Supreme Court of Alberta. These essays examine the extent to which the Court articulated an Albertan response to the varied legal questions of the past century. Canvassing the Court’s jurisprudential history, the volume includes thematic essays examining First Nations’ hunting rights, oil and gas law, water law, gender, the Hutterites and religious freedom, and family law. Additional essays detail the court’s history through its early personnel, the World War I crisis over the court’s independence, and the question of whether the court voiced an Albertan take on the constitution. What emerges is not the image of a maverick judiciary, but rather a court that pursued legal principles that would stand anywhere in the nation.

Dr. Jonathan Swainger is the Chair of the History Department at the University of Northern British Columbia.

Outrider of Empire

The Life and Adventures of Roger Pocock

Geoffrey A. Pocock

Merrill Distad, Introduction

A dreamer of dreams, an adventurer, and a man of many ideas, Roger Pocock was an inveterate, world-ranging traveller who lived the life that all adventurous boys desire. He listened with wonder to the stories of all those he met, be they outlaws like Butch Cassidy, ranchers, or mounted police. Readers of all ages and classes eagerly devoured Pocock’s western tales. Outrider of Empire is a testament to a prolific author and extraordinary man whose friends and acquaintances bridged the worlds of theatre, literature, the military, and science.

Though Geoffrey Pocock shares the same surname as the Founder of the Legion of Frontiersmen, he claims no near relationship. He listened with wonder to the stories of all those he met, be they outlaws like Butch Cassidy, ranchers, or mounted police. Readers of all ages and classes eagerly devoured Pocock’s western tales. Outrider of Empire is a testament to a prolific author and extraordinary man whose friends and acquaintances bridged the worlds of theatre, literature, the military, and science.

Though Geoffrey Pocock shares the same surname as the Founder of the Legion of Frontiersmen, he claims no near relationship. Nevertheless, he has spent a quarter of a century researching the Legion’s history and the lives of many of its members. Geoffrey Pocock lives in a village on the Sussex Downs in England.

The Ordinary Genius

A Life of Arnold Platt

Ken Hoeppner

The development of agriculture in Alberta owes much to Arnold W. Platt, who set out to plant a seed of positive change. Whether as a plant breeder, as president of the Farmers’ Union of Alberta, or a commissioner for the McPherson Royal Commission on Transportation, Platt applied his inventive and creative thinking to problems of rural development in twentieth century Alberta. In The Ordinary Genius, Ken Hoeppner pays homage to the accomplishments of this modest man, whose life’s work continues to resonate in farmlands across the Prairies. This detailed and thoroughly researched story will appeal to western history enthusiasts, agriculture specialists, and farmers.

Ken Hoeppner is the Associate Vice President, Research at Mount Royal College in Calgary. During the 1970s he worked with Arnold Platt on issues of land use and communal farming.
In 1978, he moved to Edmonton, where he has since focused his writing on Alberta politics. Originally from Hamilton, Ontario, Mark Lisac began his journalism career in Saskatchewan. Governor of Alberta from February 10, 2000 until her death in 2005. an avid gardener. She was Chancellor of the University of Alberta from 1998 to 2000 and Lieutenant Lord Mayor of Edmonton, Lois Hole was a compassionate being who remained, even as Lieutenant Governor of Alberta, affected Alberta’s history and political life. and particularly to those interested in how this remarkable woman reacted to and everyday Albertans whose lives Lois Hole touched, collection of speeches, edited by Mark Lisac, will appeal to to deal with evolving practices and technology. This revised and updated book takes on many forms. In this selection of Asian court attire, dating from the Qing dynasty (1644–1911), the phrase “you are what you wear” resonates. Vollmer journeys back to the thirteenth-century Chinese Empire, where ancestors of the ruling Manchu conquerors dressed fittingly. These exquisite costumes remind us that although royalty once set fashion standards the way that celebrities do today, these garments also promoted distinct national and political messages to help keep a ruling minority in power for nearly three centuries. Dressed to Rule is a guide to the exhibit, of the same name, appearing at the University of Alberta in 2007.

DRESSED TO RULE
18th Century Court Attire in the Mactaggart Art Collection
John E. Vollmer

Art takes on many forms. In this selection of Asian court attire, with the proliferation of round-the-clock media, communicators have more opportunities than ever to find themselves “in the news.” Yet today’s communicators come from diverse backgrounds and are not always equipped to deal with evolving practices and technology. This revised and updated edition of In The Practice of Media Relations in Canada replaces the Neus in the practice of media relations, and the onrush of new media that we experience in our everyday lives. Carney explains current practices and proposes a plan with which to manage media relationships. In the Neus is ideal for communications students and media relations practitioners in the private, public, and voluntary sectors.

ABORIGINAL CULTURES IN ALBERTA
Five Hundred Generations
Susan Berry & Jack Brink

This heavily illustrated, full colour historical narrative is a testament to the past 11,000 years of Aboriginal history in Alberta. It conveys the many challenges that Aboriginal people confronted, and celebrates their enduring legacy. Berry and Brink explore grassroots political and cultural movements of the 1960s, contemporary self-government initiatives, and the ongoing reclamation of the Aboriginal voice.

Martes
Taxonomy, Ecology, Techniques, and Management
Gilbert Proulx, Harold N. Bryant & Paul M. Woodard, Editors

In 1995, the University of Alberta hosted The Second International Martes Symposium, an event that brought together scientists to discuss the state of knowledge about mammals of the genus Martes, which includes martens, fishers, and sables. Martes: Taxonomy, Ecology, Techniques, and Management contains proceedings of this symposium, comprised of 31 technical papers on diverse aspects of these small carnivores. The papers highlight research findings and the importance of the genus Martes to naturalists, zoologists, wildlife managers, and foresters. This book is a useful reference for researchers and members of the public interested in discovering more about the habits and conservation of martens, fishers, and sables.
